

Android developer

Cegeka uses an agile software development approach to deliver the highest value to the customer. 'The agile software factory' is a team of one hundred agile developers, customer proxies and scrum masters. We work in intense and close cooperation with the customer.

You'll be working in an established and proven agile environment, with quality oriented developers, like yourself.

Desired skills and experience

- Demonstrable commercial Android experience, strong Java skills with an understanding of design patterns
- Full understanding of the Android application lifecycle
- Exposure to Agile development
- SQLite, Content Providers and Services
- Multithreading and asynchronous networking using RESTful web services and working with JSON requests/responses
- Thorough understanding of coding for performance
- Experience and use of code profiling and static analysis tools
- Awareness of the limitations, quirks and best practices with mobile devices
- Demonstrable memory management and optimisation techniques
- Experience working with bug management and source control systems
- Unit Testing and creating testable applications.

You will have strong communication skills, as you'll be collaborating with other engineering, test and development members, and most importantly, a self-starter with a relentless focus on getting things done. You will be adaptable, have strong problem solving skills, and care deeply about the end users. You are able to express yourself in English both in written and oral communication.

Responsibilities

- Prototype and develop scalable and reliable mobile applications
- Go from product requirements and design slices to UI and features
- Analyse product descriptions to create architecture, make technology choices and estimate workload
- Collaborate with a multi-discipline clients team to solve tough but invigorating problems across platforms
- Work with product, design, and other engineers on feature definition and implementation
- Leverage all your skills to help us build better and move faster

What we offer:

- Competitive salary
- Flexible and friendly working environment within a dynamic team
- Access to various training programs
- Private medical insurance
- Meal tickets
- Long term career development programs
- Being part of a growing organization with Belgian roots